On Saturday, June 19, the Central Lyon Community School District celebrated the completion of their new Activities Center with a dedication ceremony in the new facility. The program was followed by tours and refreshments. On Tuesday, June 29, the Merrill Pioneer Fitness Center returned to their room in the renovated portion of the Activities Center after using an alternative space during the demolition and construction phases of the project. Now in full operation, the Activities Center provides a renovated gym, weight room, and fitness center, as well as new restrooms, locker rooms, and multi-purpose room. This wonderful center will be appreciated and utilized for years to come by students and the public.

On June 19 attention was also directed to the Central Lyon Historical Plaza which is under construction on the site of the flagpole near the Activities Center. It is hoped that the current phase of the plaza will be completed in the current summer and will be on display for the public to enjoy. The Historical Plaza Committee will continue to raise funds needed to complete future phases of the project, including an entrance archway constructed with limestone door surrounds and a back wall which will display limestone quotes, all salvaged from the former high school. Persons or organizations interested in making a contribution to the Historical Plaza by purchasing an engraved brick, granite paver, or granite bench may contact the Superintendent's office at 712-472-2664.

The Activities Center and Historical Plaza, located at the north side of our school property, provide a look of completeness to our campus and serve as another indication of the pride the school community takes in the welfare of its students and residents.

Grandmas in School?!?

By Michelle De Haan, Assistant Program Director of Foster Grandparent Program

Grandma Iona, Grandma JoAnn, Grandma Johanna—sound familiar to you? As parents and supporters of the Central Lyon School District they may not sound familiar, but ask any elementary student and they will be able to tell you who these special individuals are. Iona Van Dyke, JoAnn Douglas, and Johanna Klarenbeek are three individuals who give of themselves every week to help out the teachers and the students in the elementary classrooms at Central Lyon.

Would you like to also help the children at Central Lyon or another area school? If you are 60 years or older and have a heart for children, you could become a Foster Grandparent. Foster Grandparents work one-on-one with children in need at schools, daycare centers, and vocational programs. In exchange for volunteering 15-40 hours each week, they receive a modest stipend (must meet income eligibility guidelines), meals, transportation, training, and perhaps most importantly, the love of the children they work with.

For more information on becoming a Foster Grandparent, please call Denise Nelson at 712-476-2628 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

WIC is a Health, not Welfare, Program

Submitted by Wanda Koedam, Mid-Sioux Opportunity, Inc.

Attention families eligible for free and reduce lunches! Did you know that if you are eligible for free and reduced lunches, you are also eligible to receive nutritious food and education for your children through the WIC program? WIC (Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children) serves pregnant women, breastfeeding and post-partum women, infants, and children up to age five. At the WIC clinic, children will receive a health check that includes height, weight, and hemoglobin (iron) status. Children's eating habits are reviewed and recommendations are given to prevent any future health problems.

Many working families with children under the age of five qualify for WIC. A family of four can earn up to $34,040/year or $2,837/month. WIC helps to see that children can still eat healthy foods in times when money may be tight. Families receive checks redeemable at local grocery stores for nutritious foods and also receive tips on how to make the best use of their food dollars.

The Iowa WIC program is making a statewide effort to see that all eligible families can take advantage of the nutritious foods and nutrition education that is available to them. WIC is a health program, not a welfare program.

To receive additional information about WIC, or to make an appointment, contact your local Mid-Sioux Opportunity, Inc. outreach office in Rock Rapids at 712-472-3746, or the Remson office at 1-800-859-2025.

Title I Summer Session

By Laureen Schram, Title I Teacher

For the past five summers, Title I students in kindergarten through second grade have participated in the Title I summer session. The students met two mornings a week for five weeks from June 15 to July 15, 2004.

Students attending the summer session worked to improve their reading skills. Staff used reading strategies in the form of manipulatives, learning activities and computer software to enhance and develop the students ongoing reading fluency and comprehension skills.

This year's staff, who have taught the summer session for the past five years, include Lila Kennedy, Stephanie Baker, Vicki Slack and Laureen Schram.

STUDENT ATHLETIC PHYSICALS

All Central Lyon students must have an athletic physical prior to participating in any sport or cheerleading. If you have any questions regarding the school physicals, please call Pioneer Medical Center at 712-472-3716 or contact El Don Maxwell, Central Lyon Athletic Director.

Checklist for the first day of school

- Are your children registered? What are the fees? When is the first day of school? What time does school start?
- What school supplies are needed? Do they need a bag to carry books?
- How are your children going to get to school? What is the bus schedule and where is the bus stop? If your children are biking, do they know the school rules for bicycles? Have you reviewed safety precautions regarding traffic and strangers?
- What time is lunch? Can your children buy lunches at school, and how much will they cost? Will they need snacks or afternoon milk? Is breakfast offered?
- What clothes will your children need to wear? Are there any restrictions on what can be worn? Will they need different clothes for physical education or art classes?
- Have you filled out all the health forms or emergency contact forms that have been sent home?
- Have any new health problems developed in your children over the summer that will affect their school day? Does the school nurse know about any health-related conditions, or is an appointment set up to discuss them?

- Do your youngsters know where they are going after school (e.g., home, babysitter)? Do they know how they will get there? If you will not be there when they arrive, do they know who will be responsible for them, what the rules are, and how to get help in an emergency?

Information taken from
Insights for Families

Making the first day easier

- Remind your children that they are not the only students who are a bit uneasy about the first day of school.
- Point out the positive aspects of starting school: It will be fun. They'll see old friends and meet new friends.
- Give your children some strategies for coping with bullies. They should not give in to a bully's demands, but should simply walk away or tell the bully to stop.
- Find other children in the neighborhood with whom your youngsters can walk to school or ride with on the bus.
- If you feel it is appropriate, drive your children (or walk with them) to school and pick them up on the first day.
- Plan in advance for school supplies and involve your children with purchasing, labeling, and organizing them.
- Get a good night's rest and encourage eating a good breakfast. Choose and lay out school clothes the night before.

Robotix Simulation

By Jerry Pytleski, Middle School Science Teacher

A group of eighth graders work on their robot.

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to control a space vehicle on Mars? A robotix simulation gave the eighth grade earth science students at Central Lyon a chance to see what it would be like to be in control of a space mission.

The students completed many missions. One of the missions that the students completed was building a parachute landing capsule to land safely on "Mars". The students cooperatively worked step-by-step through this two-week long project. In groups of three or four, the students built robots with two and three functions.

Robotix kits, provided free of charge from the Iowa State Extension Office, allowed the students to use their creative abilities to build many different types of robots that could complete many different tasks. The students were able to control and program different commands into the robots to make them complete a simple task, like picking up an object.

Using these robotix kits was a great way to complete the unit on space. The robotix kits allowed all students to work with a hands-on activity that was challenging, fun, and worthwhile to their educational experience. It is something the students will remember for a long time.
